

[REDACTED]

---

From: GoDaddy.com [notice@godaddy.com]
Sent: Monday, April 30, 2007 8:12 PM
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Your refund for ICANN Fee overpayment

Your refund for ICANN® Fee overpayment

Dear Matthew Jacobi,

The Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN®) recently agreed to reduce their Registrar Transaction Fee from $.25 to $.22. What does this mean for you?

Good news. You have been credited $.03/yr for each domain name you registered or renewed dating back to July 1, 2006* -- $.03 has been placed into your Go Daddy® account with this customer number: [REDACTED]

Your in-store credit will be applied to your purchases at GoDaddy.com® until it's gone or for up to 12 months, whichever comes sooner. If you have any questions, please contact a customer service representative at 480-505-8877.

As always, thank you for being a Go Daddy customer.

Sincerely,

Bob Parsons
CEO and Founder
GoDaddy.com

*Store credit not redeemable for cash. Credit is ONLY eligible for domains registered or renewed during the listed period. Accounts not listed in this email do not qualify for a refund.

Copyright © 2007 GoDaddy.com, Inc. All Rights Reserved.